

Healing Creed

I believe in Jesus Christ and in the power of His blood (1 Pet. 2: 24).

He bore my griefs, carried my sorrows and pains, was wounded for my transgressions, crushed for my wickedness, the punishment for my well-being fell upon Him, and by His wounds I am healed (Isa. 53: 4-5).

I have been redeemed from the hand of the enemy (Ps. 107: 2)—the thief, the devil who comes to steal, to kill, and to destroy (John 10: 10)—and loosed from the contents within his hand (Gal. 3: 13), and delivered from the spirit of fear and the power of death (Heb. 2: 14-15; 2 Tim. 1: 7).

I am an ambassador of Christ (2 Cor. 5: 20); As Jesus is, so am I on this earth (1 John 4: 17). Like Him, I humbly walk in the power of the fruits of the Spirit (Gal. 5: 22-23)—love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control; so that I can effectively carry out official kingdom business, such as to heal and be healed for His glory.

I possess Christ's authority over satan and all his wicked works (Luke 10: 19), including sickness and disease. Therefore, no weapon formed against me shall prosper (Isa. 54: 17), nor will any plague come near my dwelling (Ps. 91: 10).

I bless the Lamb of God; I remember all of His benefits, He pardons all iniquities, heals all disease, redeems my life from destruction, crowns me with lovingkindness and tender mercies, satisfies my mouth with good things, and renews my youth like the eagle's (Ps. 103: 1-5).

I am grateful that He is both able and willing (Luke 5: 12-13) to heal me in spirit, soul, and body (1 Thess. 5: 23). I partake of the Bread of Life and drink from the cup of the new covenant (John 6: 35; 1 Cor. 11: 23-32) to restore health and to heal all wounds (Prov. 4: 20-22) with His healing balm of Gilead (Jer. 30: 17; 8: 22).

Jehovah Rapha is the great physician (Exod. 15: 26). His medical report declares (Isa. 53) that His Spirit gives life to my mortal body (Rom. 8: 11), and faith makes me whole (Matt. 9: 22). I accept His advice to choose life that I may live (Deut. 30: 19).

I receive beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness (Isa. 61: 3). I take God's medicine—laughter (Prov. 17: 22) and joy for my strength (Neh. 8: 10).

I heed His counsel and repent (1 John 1: 9), ridding all bitterness (Prov. 17: 22), forgiving others (Matt. 6: 14), and empowering faith by love (Gal. 5: 6).

With wisdom from on high (James 3: 17) I activate the Sword of the Spirit (Eph. 6: 17).

With the realization that I possess the power of life and death in my tongue (Prov. 18: 21) I exercise His authority (Luke 10: 19). I curse sickness at its very root and seed (Mark 11: 12-24) and say "no disease will prosper" (Isa. 54: 17).

When I am weak, I will thank Him that He remains strong (2 Cor. 12: 9-11).

I boldly declare His abundant life, healing power, and supernatural strength (Rom. 4: 17; Isa. 40: 29,31) in Jesus' name (John 14: 13-14; 15: 16; 16: 23-24,26).
